WHAT IS A NEWS REPORTER?

News reporters work for newspapers, local or national TV and radio stations, and for online news resources. News reporters generally work full-time (40 hours or more a week). News reporters generally need to have a bachelor's degree or equivalent experience in journalism or radio-TV-film communication.

REPORTER'S TASKS

- Review copy and correct errors in content, grammar, and punctuation.
- Gather news through interviews and research.
- Report and write stories for publication.
- Publish stories in a variety of media.

“

There are opportunities here for students, whether they're in radio, TV or writing. If a student's willing to work hard, they can get more experience here than anywhere else.
